AFFIDAVIT OF PROBABLE CAUSE

On April 27, 2019 Dinora Vasquez contacted Muhlenberg Police Officer Samuel Calabria to report the following theft of money from her.

Vasquez went to The Bail Shop on April 15, 2019 located at 2845 N, 5th St. Highway and presented $5000.00 cash to the office staff (Belisa Luna and Ms. Janeiris) in an effort to get her son Jesse Morales bailed out of jail. Kaley Damore is listed as the President of the Company and Bail Agent. Her father Vincent Smith was present in the office during this transaction and was watching as the $5000.00 cash was counted out.

Vasquez came to the Police station on April 27, 2019 as her son still had not been released from jail and that The Bail Shop has not done anything to present the $5000.00 that she gave them in an effort to bail her son out of jail. When Vasquez went back to the Bail Shop to find out what was happening she was told they were waiting on their insurance to be approved so that the bail could be presented.

On April 30, 2019 this Investigator spoke with Beth Bond Deputy Clerk of the Berks County Clerk of Courts. She advised that The Bail Shop and Kaley Damore have never been issued a Bond License to write bail in Berks County and that both Kaley Damore and her father Vincent Smith have had their Bail Bond Agent licenses suspended by both The County of Berks and The PA Insurance Department. This was also confirmed with David J. Sweitzer Division Chief of Pennsylvania Insurance Department Bureau of Licensing and Enforcement.

FILED ON INFORMATION RECEIVED AND INVESTIGATION CONDUCTED.

AFFIDAVIT OF PROBABLE CAUSE

On April 27, 2019 Dinora Vasquez contacted Muhlenberg Police Officer Samuel Calabria to report the following theft of money from her.

Vasquez went to The Bail Shop on April 15, 2019 located at 2845 N. 5th St. Highway and presented $5000.00 cash to the office staff (Belisa Luna and Ms. Janevris) in an effort to get her son Jesse Morales bailed out of jail. Kaley Damore is listed as the President of the Company and Bail Agent. Her father Vincent Smith was present in the office during this transaction and was watching as the $5000.00 cash was counted out.

Vasquez came to the Police station on April 27, 2019 as her son still had not been released from jail and that The Bail Shop has not done anything to present the $5000.00 that she gave them in an effort to bail her son out of jail. When Vasquez went back to the Bail Shop to find out what was happening she was told they were waiting on their insurance to be approved so that the bail could be presented.

On April 30, 2019 this Investigator spoke with Beth Bond Deputy Clerk of the Berks County Clerk of Courts. She advised that The Bail Shop and Kaley Damore have never been issued a Bond License to write bail in Berks County and that both Kaley Damore and her father Vincent Smith have had their Bail Bond Agent licenses suspended by both The County of Berks and The PA Insurance Department. This was also confirmed with David J. Switzer Division Chief of Pennsylvania Insurance Department Bureau of Licensing and Enforcement.

MUHLENBERG TWP., Pa. - A Berks County bail bondsman once convicted of writing phony bail bonds is now accused of doing it again.

Vincent Smith and his daughter, Kaley Damore, took thousands of dollars from a woman trying to bail her son out of jail, police said.

"This is despicable behavior," said Berks County District Attorney John Adams.

Investigators said the woman gave $5,000 cash to The Ball Shop on the North Fifth Street Highway in Muhlenberg Township on April 15.

Police said Smith, 58, was there at the time and watched as the money was counted.

"I am quite alarmed at the fact that, again, he's involved in bail in Pennsylvania," Adams said.

Smith's license was revoked after he pleaded guilty to forgery in 2015 for writing fake bail bonds.

"This is the type of businessman this individual is," Adams said.

His daughter was also charged in the previous case.

Last Saturday, nearly two weeks after the woman paid the bail, her son was still not out of jail. She asked the company what the holdup was, according to court documents. The staff allegedly told her it was waiting for insurance.

Investigators said the shop doesn't have a license, and Smith and Damore's licenses are suspended.

"That $5,000, at this point, has not been returned to the victim," Adams said. "This is clearly fraudulent. This is clearly another deceitful, deceptive business."

Staff working at The Bail Shop on Friday had no comment on the case.

Smith, 58, of Lower Heidelberg Township, and Damore, 27, of Muhlenberg Township, were charged with theft by deception-false impression, receiving stolen property, and deceptive business practices.

Smith was committed to the Berks County Jail on $10,000 bail; Damore was freed on $25,000 unsecured bail.

Berks DA withdraws charges against pair in bail bonds case

READING, Pa. - Prosecutors have withdrawn criminal charges against a Berks County man and his daughter in connection with their operation of a bail bonds business.

District Attorney John Adams said law enforcement authorities have insufficient evidence to proceed with their case against Vincent Smith and his daughter, Kaley Damore, at this time. The charges, he added, could be refiled in the future.

Smith, 58, of Lower Heidelberg Township, and Damore, 27, of Muhlenberg Township, were arrested last week on charges of theft by deception - false impression, receiving stolen property, and deceptive business practices.

The charges, officials said, stemmed from their business, The Bail Shop on the North Fifth Street Highway in Muhlenberg Township, being given $5,000 cash by a woman trying to bail her son out of jail. The business, they said, did nothing with the money.

Investigators said The Bail Shop doesn't have a license, and that Smith and Damore's licenses as bail bonds agents are suspended.

Smith pleaded guilty to forgery in 2015 for writing fake bail bonds. His daughter was also charged in that case.
